There are fifty candidates for the nomination of Governor of the State of New York. Thirty of these desire to be elected on the Republican ticket, and twenty seek the Democratic nomination. Of the fifty all save two are sure to be disappointed, and after the election one of the two will have thoughts of what might have been.

Aspirants for Governor on both sides of the political house are still an open one, according to party leaders. Accepting the fact as a candidate in spite of his letter declining it, the men spoken of prominently are those named above.

The introduction of Daniel S. Lamont is due to the influence of former President Cleveland, who believes he would make an ideal candidate.

The Republican State Committee will meet on Thursday, and the date for the State convention, probably will be set for Sept. 14. The Democratic convention will be held one week later. It is thought both conventions will be held in Saratoga.

but Mrs. Lyons was anxious to know all about the latest developments in his case.

Lyons was careful to keep her from the fact that the time set for his execution was so near and told her he felt hopeful about the outcome of the case.

Inspector R. C. Ould dead. Belonged to one of the first families of Virginia.

PLATTSBURG, N. Y., Aug. 3.—Special Inspector Robert C. Ould, aged about sixty years, of the United States custom service, stationed at Champlain, N. Y., on the Canadian frontier, died today of a complication of diabetes and heart trouble.

Mr. Ould was a member of Morley's Third Battalion in the Confederate Army, better known as "Morley's Guerrillas," and his father was Judge Robert Ould, of Richmond, Va., who was the confederate agent for the exchange of prisoners at City Point, Va., during the civil war.

Mrs. Ould's family has long been known as one of the first families of Virginia. The deceased left a widow and two young sons.

Lyons' Blindness.
(From the Philadelphia Ledger)
"Is she tall or short?"
"I never thought."

"Is she dark or fair?"
"You've got me there."

"Is she fair as day or black as night?"
"All I've observed is, she's just right."

"Is she six feet high or four foot three?"
"Her height's the height that just suits me."
